RepRisk for Multinationals

The story of RepRisk is about how an idea – increased transparency on ESG risks – has changed the way that companies can do business.

RepRisk is a global research and business intelligence provider, specializing in environmental, social, and governance (ESG) risks. For over ten years, our focus has been risk management and transparency – delivering dynamic analytics and metrics that help reduce blind spots and shed light on ESG issues that may, in turn, translate into reputational, compliance, or financial risks.

Make better, more informed decisions every day because of the transparency that RepRisk provides.

For Supply Chain and Procurement

- Identify the ESG risks in your supplier base
- Assess suppliers during onboarding processes to ensure compliance with your internal policies and international standards
- Monitor suppliers and receive Alerts when there is possible breach of your Supplier Code of Conduct

For Risk Management and Compliance

- Analyze and understand the key ESG risks for your company and your sector
- Research the ESG challenges in the countries and sectors in which you do business
- Assess business partners and check compliance with your policies and international standards

For IR, CSR/Sustainability, and Communications

- Track and benchmark your ESG risk exposure against that of your peers
- Monitor NGO activities to support your stakeholder engagement work
- Research ESG issues and trends to facilitate policy development, management reporting, and internal awareness-raising

RepRisk runs the world’s most comprehensive database on ESG risks, delivering curated data on a daily basis.
