

Round-table lunch on “Norm-based Exclusion: Evidence and Practice”

ECOFACT was very pleased to welcome more than 50 participants at the lunch seminar on “Norm-based Exclusion: Evidence and Practice”, June 13, 2008, at the Park Hyatt Zurich.

The keynote speaker was Kamil Zabielski from the Council of Ethics of the Norwegian Government Pension Fund, who presented and discussed the benefits of norm-based exclusion. The event commenced with an introduction to ECOFACT (presentation) by Olivier Jaeggi, ECOFACT’s President and Managing Partner, and was followed by presentations from Kamil Zabielski (presentation, ethical guidelines). Martina Klose, ECOFACT’s Director of Product Management, gave an introduction to RepRisk and Julian Koelbel from ETH Zurich presented evidence that norm-based exclusion might lead to better returns (presentation, thesis summary).