

RepRisk joins global social enterprise network The Hub

RepRisk Senior Analyst Christophe Diederich visited The Hub in Zurich, part of a global network for social enterprise that offers a free space for people to work in, supplied with desks and computers. Christophe gave a demonstration of the RepRisk tool, which will now be accessible there for free research by Hub visitors. RepRisk is excited to feature in this vibrant network and hopes that a new generation of social entrepreneurs will develop an appreciation of the reputational risks entailed in the environmental, social, and governance performance of their business relationships.
