

RepRisk participates in Third Party and Counterparty Relationship Risks conference in London

RepRisk's UK-based Strategic Analyst, Stella Kenway, participated in the "Managing Third Party and Counterparty Relationship Risks" conference, held in London on March 11 and 12, 2013. Around 80 senior managers attended the event, which focused on the importance of due diligence and auditing in the context of strengthening management of third party relationships. Compliance managers of large corporations explained their approach to this issue, while legal experts explained the implications of current and forthcoming legislation in this area.