

Colloquium on Measuring Corporate Responsibility to Respect Human Rights

On October 7, 2013, RepRisk took part in a colloquium: “Measuring the Corporate Responsibility to Respect Human Rights.” RepRisk Strategic Analyst for the UK Market, Stella Kenway, attended the event, which brought together over 60 academics and ESG data providers from around the world. The colloquium explored the feasibility of launching a new benchmark indicator to measure a corporation’s commitment to Human Rights. The event was held in Cumberland Lodge, a UK academic retreat and educational charity.