

RepRisk, in partnership with the Principles for Sustainable Insurance (PSI), presents webinar on ESG in insurance

November 2018

The insurance industry plays a key role in promoting economic, social, and environmental sustainability as risk managers, risk carriers and investors. However, the integration of environmental, social, and governance (ESG) risks into insurance underwriting is still missing global guidelines and standards. This webinar is an opportunity for professionals in the insurance and investment community to learn from leading insurance companies about their approach to ESG, hear about current efforts in developing global guidelines, and find out how ESG data science can support the insurance industry in the management of ESG risks.

Speakers are:

- Butch Bacani, UNEP FI Principles for Sustainable Insurance Initiative (PSI)
- Thierry Corti, Swiss Re
- Giulia Misino, RepRisk
