across all sectors and geographies

The most comprehensive database on ESG risks grows daily as new information is captured and analyzed

Zurich, Switzerland – November 18, 2015 – RepRisk, the leading provider of dynamic business intelligence on environmental, social, and governance (ESG) risks, announced today that its ESG Risk Platform now covers over 60,000 public and private companies across every sector and country in the world.

“We just achieved the milestone of covering 50,000 companies in March of this year – and now, we have already reached the next milestone of 60,000,” said Nicole Streuli-Fürst, Head of Operations and Research at RepRisk. “This fast growth is possible because RepRisk research is updated on a daily basis. Every day, we not only capture and analyze new risk information, but we also add to the database up to 50 new companies that are exposed to ESG risks for the first time.”

RepRisk’s ESG Risk Platform, launched in 2006, now includes risk profiles for over 60,000 public and private companies along with over 15,000 projects. It also provides sector risk profiles, country risk profiles, as well as data on NGOs, governmental bodies, and ESG issues and topics.

The RepRisk ESG Risk Platform is used by financial institutions and corporates globally as a due diligence, research, and monitoring tool in risk management, compliance, investment management, corporate benchmarking, and supplier risk.

Nicole Streuli-Fürst continues, “Our goal has been, and continues to be, to set the standard in ESG risk quantification and we remain focused on our mission to offer the most dynamic, comprehensive, and curated ESG risk data available.”
