

RepRisk will attend and participate at Responsible Investment Forum New York 2020

February 2020

The Responsible Investment Forum returns to New York for its fourth year to bring together the most sophisticated LPs, GPs and associations to discuss why, when, and how your firm should be implementing an effective ESG strategy.

RepRisk will give the following presentation:
ESG data

Wednesday, March 4, 11:30am

- How well is that data output performing in comparison to peers
- Are we able to benchmark fund manager performance?
- Can we marry performance data with ESG performance data? Are we able to communicate the info to LPs
- How to drive meaningful data

RepRisk speaker:

Dr. Philipp Aeby

CEO and Board Member of RepRisk

Dr. Philipp Aeby is the CEO and Co-founder of RepRisk. Prior to taking on this role, he held the position of Chief Operating Officer and Managing Partner. He is an expert in business conduct risk management, with a special interest in machine learning. The technology team reports directly to him.

Before joining RepRisk in 2006, Philipp served in various managerial positions across Europe at Amgen, a global biopharmaceutical firm, and worked on a broad range of international assignments with the Boston Consulting Group.

He is on the Business Advisory Board of Swisspeace and was previously on the Board of Swiss Sustainable Finance, as well as on UNICEF's Advisory Board during the launch of UNICEF's Children's Rights and Business Principles.

Philipp holds a PhD in Environmental Physics and a Master's degree in Climatology and Hydrology from the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH) in Zurich, Switzerland, where he earned the ETH Medal for outstanding research that involved applying neural networks to pattern recognition.
